The New-York Tribune—W. E. E. EXPLAINED.—On the 1st of last April the Daily Tribune, having completed its twelfth year, was enlarged more than one-fourth, or nearly one-half, and is now the largest newspaper in the country, and the only other newspaper published in the world. No change in price was made in consequence of this enlargement; the paper being still offered to Mail Subscribers at $1.50 per annum, and to others at 25 cents. The price is now $1.50 per annum, and is to be paid in small weekly or monthly payments. The land is beautifully elevated; it is steeper, and cheaper than any land ever offered. This property has nearly doubled in value since the time of our last sale. Persons wishing to avail themselves of the advantages of obtaining a plot of ground under such extraordinary advantages, terms, and conditions, as we have, will be invited to see us. The public are invited to inspect the land.

THE LAND OF PLEASURES.—In New-York, there are accessible to the city by twelve daily trains. There are six good dwellings on the land, which, together with the barns, will be distributed to the members without any additional charge.

Persons desiring to purchase a small weekly or monthly payment. The land is beautifully elevated; it is steeper, and cheaper than any land ever offered. THE SEMI-WEEKLY, EUROPEAN AND CALIFORNIA EDITIONS were enlarged simultaneously and equally with the Daily, and also without any increase of price. We are now publishing the Semi-weekly, and the European and California Editions, for the first time, in a fall number, and five copies for $1.25, and will give $1.00 for 50 cents. We shall supply our agents with the same for distribution.

WE ARE PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE that our entire Daily edition do not exceed the sum we pay for paper and ink, leaving all other expenses to be defrayed from our receipts. We are now giving the reward of our own labor and the heavy expense of typesetting, engraving, &c., to our Advertising agents. We do not think it now possible to cheapen newspapers beyond this point; if it should be hereafter, we intend to be even with the forum in over-all expenses.
